Tags (from Ten Second Objects public listing): Mime and movement · Co-operation

Learning outcomes

Pupils collaborate to create clear physical images in ten seconds and sequence three freeze-frames into a short story, explaining choices with simple drama vocabulary.

Success criteria

- We work as a team without talking over each other.
- We use high, medium and low levels so the shape is clear.
- We can explain what our object or story moment shows.
- Everyone contributes to at least one freeze.

Vocabulary

Freeze-frame · ensemble · levels (high / medium / low) · mime · stimulus · thought-tracking · physical theatre · collaboration

Lesson structure (timed)

1. Focus circle & learning goals (5 min) — share outcomes; safety; success check.
2. Ten Second Objects — practice round (10 min) — car, then washing machine, volcano, pencil sharpener, cuckoo clock, bowl of spaghetti (Farmer's public examples).
3. Theme location sculpt (12 min) — fairground / rainforest / castle; optional alphabet or changing objects.
4. Guess our object!' freeze gallery (8 min) — invent-and-guess; optional Alphabet / Problem / Resolution story sequence.
5. Story shapes sequence (15 min) — Beginning!' Problem!' Resolution; thought-tracking; cross-cutting.
6. Perform, evaluate, next steps (10 min) — gallery share; two stars and a wish; exit ticket; signpost related games / Just Add Drama.

Introduction (teacher script outline)

Share the Ten Second Objects challenge from David Farmer's 101 Drama Games and Activities. Model one object with volunteers. Agree safety and success criteria. Warm up with a simple car shape before harder objects.

Main activity

Practice round with the classic object list!' themed location sculpt!' invent-and-guess; Alphabet / Problem / Resolution story sequence with optional thought-tracking and literacy captions (Drama for Writing).

Plenary

Perform story shapes to a rotating audience. Peer feedback using drama vocabulary. Exit ticket naming one teamwork skill and one idea for next lesson. Signpost Just Add Drama and related games on dramaresource.com.

Differentiation

Support: smaller groups, pre-agreed roles (base / middle / top), picture prompts, sentence starters.

Challenge: changing objects, alphabet objects, cross-cutting, sound/movement, written captions.

EAL: demonstrate visually first; allow brief mother-tongue planning then English labels.

Assessment

Formative observation of collaboration and shape clarity; thought-track quality; exit ticket; optional photo of best freeze for floor book (school policy).

Resources

Clear space · optional mats · whiteboard object list · timer · sticky notes · teacher access to dramaresource.com/ten-second-objects

Key questions

What made your shape easy to recognise? How did levels help? Where did your group decide fastest? How could this game help a story or topic we are studying?
